Dear Colleagues,

We hope your year is off to a great start. This is the first of three newsletters you will receive throughout the school year. We appreciate your forwarding this information to your staff and look forward to providing many exciting learning opportunities.

Sincerely,

Tacy Ashby, EdD
Senior Vice President
Strategic Educational Alliances

SEA Standout

Grand Canyon University (GCU) may have started its summer break in April, but the campus buzz lasted into June. Thousands of graduates, friends and family from more than a dozen Arizona schools flocked to GCU for their high school graduation and/or eighth grade promotion ceremony. See the complete list.

Canyon Community

College of Education alumni will have ascended to six more positions of leadership in school districts when the 2015-16 school year begins. Congratulations to our "family" of graduates for all of their contributions. The Office of Strategic Educational Alliances (SEA) is proud of these leaders as well as the many other alums leading SEA schools. Read more.

Have you Thought About...

Opportunities abound for K-12 educators, students and parents to generate and celebrate educational excellence in public, private, charter and homeschool settings within EDS. Through its various professional development, STEM and educational programs, there are occasions for everyone to learn, connect with others and engage in topics that matter to them.

Lopes Latest

GCU has undergone a major transformation on our Phoenix campus including expanded tutoring services. Through programs such as After Dark and the Learning Lounge, more students are able to access the help they need in math, science and other subjects.

SEA Upcoming Events

The cooler temperatures of fall mark the beginning of special STEM Saturdays programs for students of all ages, families and educators. A professional development session will show educators ways of integrating robots into their science classes and School Choice communities can join Alhambra H.S. at a GCU men's basketball game just before Thanksgiving.
