

Constitution and Citizenship Day

Constitution and Citizenship Day

Each year on Sept. 17, Grand Canyon University recognizes Constitution Day, commemorating the Sept. 17, 1787 signing of the U.S. Constitution. On Sept. 17, 2015, Constitution Day games, flags and information about registering to vote was available to any employee/student who was on the Promenade of the main campus in Phoenix between 11:00 am and 12:30 pm. A company-wide email that included a video explaining the impact of the Constitution as well as a game geared toward teaching individuals about the effect of the document. The following resources offer more information about the U.S. Constitution:

One of the Library of Congress' repositories for constitutional documents and information may be accessed at memory.loc.gov/ammem/collections/continental/

The National Archives also has a website with a scan of the U.S. Constitution available online: archives.gov/exhibits/charters/charters.html

In addition, the National Archives has a nationwide network of research facilities, including presidential libraries that welcome students as young as 14 years old. Information about the facilities (by region and state) can be located online at archives.gov/locations/index.html

Voter Registration

As a participant in Title IV federal student financial aid programs, GCU would like to remind students who are U.S. citizens of the importance of registering to vote.
