Constitution and Citizenship Day

Each year, Grand Canyon University recognizes Constitution Day, commemorating the Sept. 17, 1787 signing of the U.S. Constitution. In 2017, Grand Canyon University observed Constitution Day on Sept. 15 and Sept. 18. On the observed days, faculty in the College of Humanities and Social Sciences offered various lessons in their classrooms including a video clip followed by classroom discussions. In addition, a company-wide email communication was sent to all employees and students that included a video explaining the impact of the Constitution as well as a game geared toward teaching individuals about the effect of the document. You may use the following resources to learn more about the U.S. Constitution.

One of the Library of Congress' repositories for Constitutional documents and information may be accessed at: <http://memory.loc.gov/ammem/index.html>.

The National Archives also has a Web site with a scan of the U.S. Constitution available online at: <http://www.archives.gov/exhibits/charters/charters.html>.

In addition, the National Archives has a nationwide network of research facilities, including presidential libraries that welcome students as young as 14 years of age. Information about the facilities (by region and state) can be located online at: <http://www.archives.gov/locations/index.html>.
